Puerto de la Cruz, Tenerife

TRADITIONAL HOUSES

Puerto de la Cruz

Xperience

The traditional houses in Puerto de la Cruz are the symbol of the island. They are some of the oldest and most delightful buildings in the town and have become the insignia of the island. Even though the facade of many of them is reconstructed, the interior preserves its original style including the typical Canarian balconies. They represent the old Canarian culture and hold the spirit of the locals. In all of them you will experience their welcoming atmosphere. They are the ideal place to enjoy the Canarian culture and cuisine within a romantic atmosphere that will transport you to the past.

The island of Tenerife has an interesting historic background. Many men tried their luck and sailed to the New World. The Canary Islands were the last stop of all journeys to the land beyond the horizon and the first stop on the way back.

Due to the commerce between America and Europe, Tenerife became home to merchants from all over the globe. The mixture of influences from many countries resulted in a unique architectural style and as a result the traditional culture is one of the richest in the world and all of it can be re-lived throughout the island inside its beautiful traditional houses.
